Foundation Dragon for Commercial Real Estate Acquisitions

Litera's Foundation Dragon has transformed deal-making for M&A transactions by converting firm experience data into powerful insights, giving firms like yours a competitive advantage. This groundbreaking technology has been optimized to bring the same benefits to commercial real estate agreements!

Foundation Dragon now extracts critical deal points from real estate purchase and sale agreements and compiles this data into an intuitive database, empowering you to confidently advise clients, negotiate from a position of power, and quickly identify precedents for future transactions. Think of Foundation Dragon as a magic wand that turns buried, complex acquisition agreements into your secret weapon.

How was Foundation Dragon adapted for Commercial Real Estate?

As a leader in legal AI, Litera knows the best way to build our tools is to feed them with great examples of representative data. That's why Foundation Dragon was built using real-world documents from top sources to be able to spot the important details that matter in any deal, including:

Official U.S. deal documents from the EDGAR database

Insights from pilot customers at leading international law firms and current Dragon customers

Revolutionize the way your legal teams harness data with Foundation Dragon. Get started today!
