KIRA QUICK STUDY

Empowering you to meet the unique needs of your clients and business

Easily create and train your own Kira smart fields, tailored to your specific needs, to find clauses and data points from contracts and other documents using Quick Study, our no-code machine learning tool.

Leverage the expertise of your subject matter experts

Kira Quick Study empowers your subject matter experts to collaborate with Kira's AI, using the same technology that Litera's Legal Knowledge Engineering team uses to develop our 1,400+ built-in smart fields.

- Extract the information you need for specific use cases

- Works in any Latin-based language

- No developer skills required

Trustworthy and Secure AI

Kira Quick Study quickly learns new provisions and clauses with very few examples, thanks to the powerful AI algorithms developed by our R&D team.

Litera does not use any customer data to improve or train Kira, and Kira has no access to any documents or highlights from customer data. You always retain whatever rights or ownership you have to any data within Kira.

How Kira Quick Study Works

☑ Easily Teach by Example

Just upload your own sample documents, then highlight and tag content relevant to your needs. Kira can read and identify any Latin-based languages.

☑ Refine and Improve, Anytime

Kira Quick Study offers easy validation and tracking of results. Refine your custom smart fields with additional documents and document types to improve accuracy and expand the relevance of your custom fields.

☑ Control Accuracy and Performance

Kira calculates accuracy statistics for every smart field you train. With this data, you can adjust precision, recall, and bias of your custom smart fields to optimize results and conform them as needed.

☑ Deploy Your Smart Fields

Ready to use your new smart fields? Quick Study not only enhances your team's expertise for unique projects but also helps you process more documents with high accuracy and efficiency, using your own knowledge.

Kira automatically organizes your documents and captures and summarizes over 1,400 clauses and data points in contracts and other documents.

Try Quick Study today to augment Kira's existing Built-in Intelligence to fit your specific needs and use cases.
