Securely Collaborate Across Devices

Mitigate the risk of sharing sensitive information or storing data in third-party cloud servers by securely sharing large files with encrypted emails.
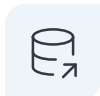

Litera SecureShare is a on-premises, secure file sharing solution that allows legal professionals to engage in effortless and secure collaboration by sharing files of any size and sending encrypted emails across devices and browsers.

Why Litera SecureShare?

The legal profession is highly collaborative in nature. Legal professionals need the ability to share large files with internal and external stakeholders across different devices, from the office or on the go. But they also need to adhere to governance and security requirements that necessitate the protection of sensitive information usually found in legal documents.

This is where Litera SecureShare comes in!

Litera SecureShare combines the power of a secure file sharing platform with our best-in-breed metadata cleaning and comparison software. Users can leverage the intuitive file sharing portal or the integration within Microsoft Outlook to securely send encrypted emails and large attachments that they would otherwise not be able to send through a traditional Outlook email. All this is available through any internet-capable device to meet every collaboration need you have.

Limitless Collaboration

Transfer and share files of any size and support the most complex business cases.
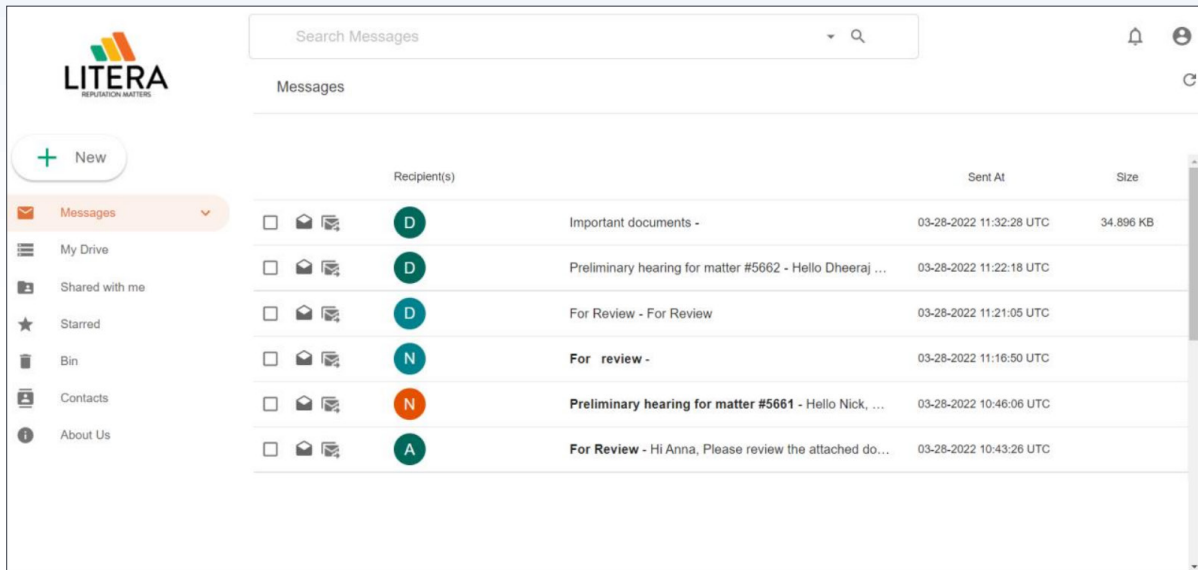

Enhance Security

Leverage the most secure encryption technology and supercharge compliance.

Mobile Accessibility

Access & share your files on any internet capable device, while maintaining security policies.
